Your ISO 9001 manual as a system.

5 things that change when the quality manual stops living in binders. Swipe →

01

Every form, numbered.

Each form from the manual exists on the portal with its code, revision and retention period. No more “which version is this?”

02

Filed from the yard.

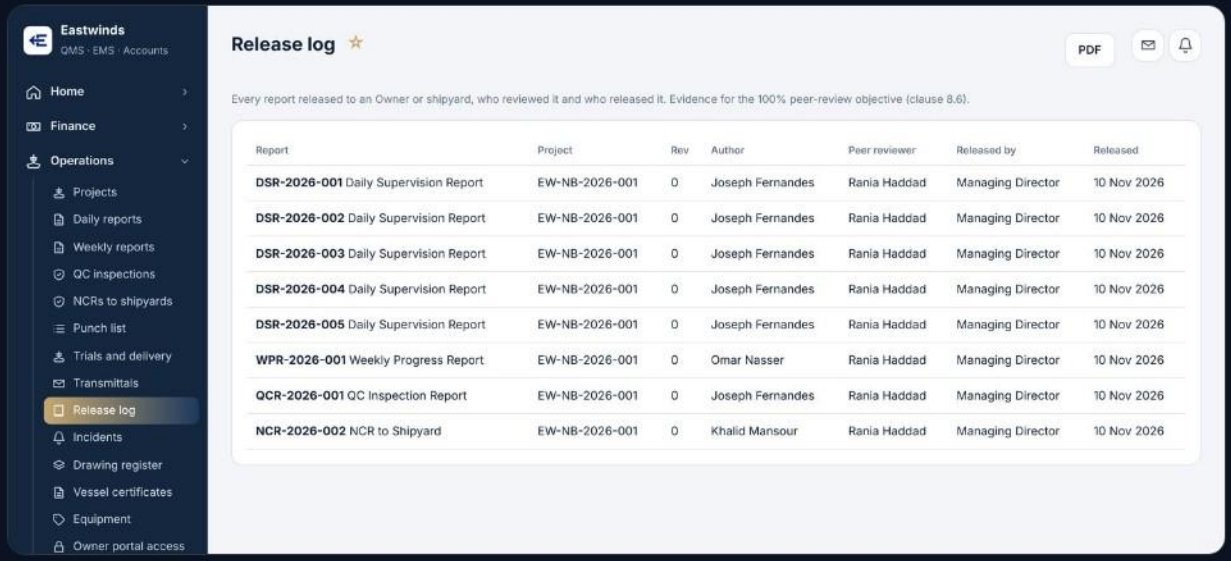

Daily and weekly site reports written on the phone, with photos, while the supervisor is still at the shipyard.

03

Nothing leaves unchecked.

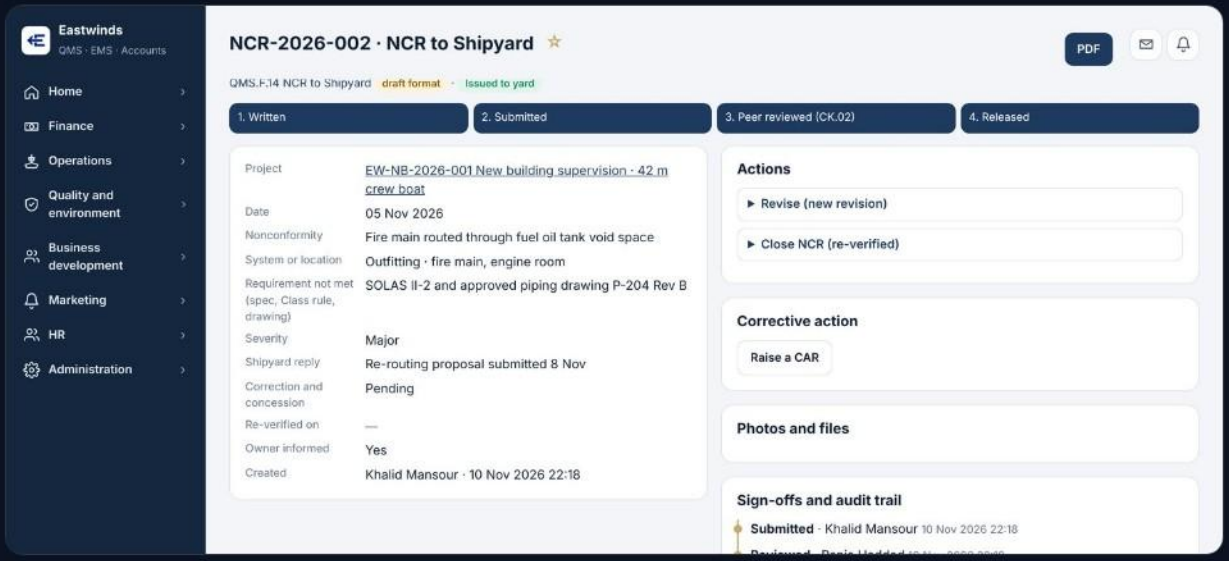

A second person reviews against the release checklist; the releaser enters a PIN. 100 % peer review, counted automatically.

04

The auditor sees the trail.

NCRs, audits, corrective actions and management review, each linked to the form and the person. Audit week takes a morning.

05

The PDF proves itself.

Every released document prints on the letterhead with a QR code anyone can scan to check it is genuine and current.
